NEW CHRISTIAN CHURCH IS OPENED WITH NOTABLE JOINT SERVICES

Other Congregations Join In Dedication of Beautiful New Home on Kewalo Street

With a seating capacity of 300, nearly double that number of people gathered at the new Christian church on Kewalo street yesterday morning to take part in the dedicatory service. Seats were provided on the broad lawns that surround three sides of this beautiful edifice to accommodate the overflow crowd. Large doors at frequent intervals were thrown open, thus giving the effect of one large room.

There were no services in Central Union or the Methodist churches yesterday morning, the members of the congregations of those two houses of worship joining with the Christian church in the dedication of the new home.

An excellent musical program was given in which the audience at times took part. A solo, "Fear Not Ye, O Israel," was beautifully rendered by Miss Alice L. Hopper. Mrs. A. MacPherson led at the organ.

The prayer of consecration was offered by Rev. W. E. Crabtree of San Diego, California, who has been the pastor of the Christian church at that city for 20 years. The dedicatory address was made by Rev. F. M. Dowling of Fullerton, California, who, with Mr. Crabtree, came to Honolulu for the express purpose of taking part in the dedication of the new church. The invocation was given by Rev. A. A. Ebersole of the Central Union church and Rev. E. E. Brace, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, offered prayer and read from the Scriptures. Dr. Scudder of Central Union church extended the good wishes of the many churches in the city, and the benediction was given by Rev. W. H. Fry, superintendent of the Methodist missions in Hawaii.

At the conclusion of the services there was a general hand-shaking all around and congratulations were in order for those who worked early and late to accomplish the task that shows as a result this beautiful bungalow-type church. The annexes of the church were open for the inspection of those present, and nearly everybody visited the beautiful rest rooms, parlors, kitchen, library and class rooms of the large Sunday school, of which the Christian church is so proud.

Rev. Peters delivered the sermon in his new church. In the beginning Mr. Peters called attention to the fact that the present age is a restless one, and that this restlessness, which springs from the deeper recesses of human life, is but a heart hunger which can be satisfied only by those agencies that minister to the spirit. "It was thought that wealth would satisfy this hunger," he said, "and then, lo! the great struggle for wealth, and yet, he added, the world is still hungry. A man's life consists not in the abundance of things he possesses."

"There were others, said the minister, who thought that knowledge would satisfy the hunger, with the result that for centuries men have been knocking at the door of wisdom. 'Monumental things stand as the result of man's passionate seeking after knowledge; and yet he cries peace, peace, when there is no peace. For by wisdom the world knoweth not God,' he said.

"The secret was revealed by the prophet of Galilee," continued the minister, "when he said, 'Man lives by every word which proceedeth out of the mouth of God.' Had we been wise enough to have listened to the voice of Him who has ever challenged our attention, the longing of the human heart might have been appeased ages ago. Only the ability to see the unseen can satisfy."

"The father-heart of God has ever sought the welfare of his children. As the human parent moves and lives and has his being, only for the welfare and happiness of his children, so the Heavenly Father exercises his vast providences for the good of man. Our children bulk large in the field of our vision, so also does a child of man in the vision of God. His measures have been innumerable, all of them rich. The greatest is the gift of His son. The advent of Jesus Christ was indeed a revelation of the Father."

"The great facts compassed in his personality. In His life we behold the uncovered heart of the Father; in Him also is seen the measure of the man, the capacity of the human soul; and the way. The Master said: 'The works that I do, I do not of myself, I came to do the will of my Father who is in heaven.' He said, 'I speak not of myself but the Father who dwelleth in me He doeth the works.' The life and teaching of Jesus constituted the program of God in execution. How tremendously significant become the things he said and did."

"And what lies before us? Are, the consummation of the purposes of God. Nothing short of this is destiny. For the third time I repeat—the Master said, 'The gates of hell shall not stand against my church.' The truth which we hold shall prevail. I do not know what insidious forms the wiles of evil may take; but I do know this—that where sin abounds, the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ doth much more abound." We look upon the world and behold the ramifications of evil, and our hearts are palsied with fear. But these strongholds of Satan are not unconquerable.

"Pause for a moment and look far over the long way, along which the church of Christ has come. Many a battlefield, wreckage strewn, marks the way; but not one of them is a field of reverses. Over every one of them floats the victory flag of the cross. With your heart athril from such a view as that, turn ye to the front, face the future. Appears there on our horizon anywhere a foe to righteousness so formidable as those already vanquished? No. Do the spies bring from beyond the horizon any warning of a secreted foe, the rising of whose reinforcements will turn the tide of conflict against the cross? Again, no. The battle line yields. Route among the enemy is occurring at many places in the broken line. The shout of victory comes up from the hearts of the redeemed. The consummation of the age draws nigh. 'The knowledge of the Lord shall cover the sea.' With this vision of triumph I would inspire your hearts. Brethren, we stand at a new vantage point; a new height has been gained. A clear field is before us, and the Spirit of Christ Jesus calls."

Fort Shafter Notes

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)
FORT SHAFTER, April 26.—Mr. Cooke, the wife of Capt. E. H. Cooke, 2d Infantry, underwent an operation for appendicitis on Saturday morning at the Queen's hospital in town, and inquiries by friends of the family yesterday were met with the information that the patient's progress was most satisfactory in every way, the fact that no temperature had been noted by the nurses in attendance being an especially favorable feature. Dr. Judd of Honolulu was the surgeon operating. Mrs. Cooke will probably not be able to return to her home for some three weeks.

The airdate at Shafter will make a pronounced departure beginning with May 3, when an "amateur night" will be staged under the active management of Cpl. Francis Leigh of the 2d Infantry band. Circulars announcing the night have been posted on all organization bulletin boards and the usual opportunities for the theatrical ambitions among the men of the command will be afforded. If the venture proves successful the aerodrome will probably put one such night a week on as a variation from the movies, and prizes will be provided for the successful "actors." The show will be put on in the shell that has been put in for the orchestra that Cpl. Leigh is conducting with such satisfaction, and if the crop of aspirants, or any member thereof, desires to essay clog or other dancing for a prize, a suitable floor will be built to accommodate that class of entertainment. It is expected that the number of contestants for the first night's performance will fill the evening well-up, and there should be a crowded house to greet them. Applications for place should be made to Cpl. Leigh, who will arrange with the contestants as to a place on the program, the necessary music for vocal efforts or dancing, and any other detail of management found necessary to make a go of the performance. For the special evening there will be no advance in prices for admission.

Lieut. Fred A. Cook, 2d Infantry, is the latest officer to receive notification that he will shortly be relieved from duty in Hawaii and transferred to a regiment serving on the mainland. Lieut. Cook has not yet been informed as to the regiment to which he will be assigned, but, inasmuch as there are but four infantry regiments in the states not on the Mexican border out of the 20 on the mainland, it is a safe hazard that his new post will be somewhere between Douglas, Ariz., and Texas City, Tex., as has been the fate of all officers transferred out of the 2d Infantry during the past few months. With the exception of Capt. Archie J. Harris, who, by good fortune, managed to land in the 14th, in the Northwest. The following named officers of the regiment are now under orders for relief from duty here: Capt. Gibson and Kay and Lieuts. Wright, Mathews, Longanecker and Cook, with Capt. Walter H. Johnson expecting his orders within the next month or two. In addition to the above prospective permanent losses Col. French will shortly go on an extended leave and Lieuts. Hardigg, Calder and Greene will leave on a similar status by the next transport, to be absent for about three months in the states.

The rains of yesterday interfered greatly with the target practise of the 1st Regiment, National Guard of Hawaii, that had been given permission to use the Shafter range by the post commander during the hours from 8 in the morning until retreat, with the exception that shooting was not to take place between 9:30 and 11:30 o'clock on account of the fact that the firing would disturb the post Sunday school and church services scheduled during those hours. There were a number of officers and men of the regiment that came out early and remained until late in an endeavor to get the season's target practise well under way, but the showers that came over with discouraging frequency kept everybody well-soaked and would have dampened the ardor of any command less enthusiastic than were the guardsmen. Firing will be resumed next Sunday by the regiment and will continue on that day of the week throughout the season.

Under the recommendation of his company commander Pvt. William H. Stauffer of Company B, 2d Infantry, was appointed corporal in that organization, vice Berkite, discharged, on April 24. On the same date the following named promotions and appointments in Company D, 2d Infantry, were announced in regimental orders: Cpl. Michael Flayter promoted to sergeant, vice Denham, discharged; and Cpl. Stephen Lessnick promoted to sergeant, vice Blystone, reduced; Pvt. Clarence V. Martin appointed corporal, vice Clark, discharged; Pvt. Joseph F. Turley appointed corporal, vice Flayter, promoted; and Pvt. Clarence E. Price appointed corporal, vice Lessnick, promoted.

Laws of Hawaii, 1915, to be known as Section 1079A, and to read as follows:

"Section 1079A. Female, transportation, charge upon. Whenever any female shall be committed to the insane asylum from any island in the Territory of Hawaii, other than Oahu, such female shall be accompanied during such trip from such island to the asylum by her husband, or by a female friend, relative or nurse. Such attendant shall be designated by the committing judge or magistrate and may, by such judge or magistrate, be given sole charge of such female during the trip.

The necessary expenses of such attendant shall be a charge upon the county or city and county from which the female was committed, and shall be collected by the commissioners of insanity in the same manner as is provided in Section 1084."

SECTION 2. This Act shall take effect upon its approval.

Approved this 15th day of April, A. D. 1915.

LUCIUS E. PINKHAM,
Governor of the Territory of Hawaii.

AMATEUR TARS TO SAIL HERE FROM NEW YORK

Five days will be spent in Honolulu this summer by the merchant marine training ship Newport, according to a letter to the Star-Bulletin from F. S. Murray, commanding, who is superintendent of the New York State Nautical School. He writes:

"I am forwarding under separate cover a copy of the annual report of the board of governors of the New York State Nautical School, which describes the work of this vessel."

"I take pleasure in announcing that the Newport is expected to visit Honolulu this coming summer, during her annual practice cruise."

"During the 40 years that this school has been in operation it has been customary to spend five months each year at sea."

"Heretofore such cruises have been made to European ports. Owing to the disturbance abroad, the completion of the Panama canal and the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, it is advisable to alter the usual procedure."

"I enclose herewith a tentative itinerary of the cruise."

"It is understood here that efforts have been made to establish similar schools on the Pacific coast."

"The board of governors of this school, its friends and supporters and all who are connected with it, welcome the interest which may be taken in its work, that of training young Americans to become efficient in handling the ships of our mercantile marine."

The tentative itinerary is:

Leave New York City May 4, 1915, for sea.
Port of Call. Arrive. Leave
St. Thomas, D. W. I. May 16; May 21
Christobal May 30; May 31
Balboa June 1; June 1

San Francisco Aug. 5; Aug. 15
Balboa Sep. 12; Sep. 13
Cristobal Sep. 14; Sep. 14
New London Oct. 8; Oct. 12
Glen Cove Oct. 13; Oct. 16
New York Oct. 16; 16

Embassy here, sent this letter today to Secretary Daniels:

"Assuming that the last hope that anybody is still alive in the ill-fated submarine F-4 must now be abandoned, I beg to express the deepest sympathy of the Imperial German Navy and myself for the deplorable loss of so many brave officers and men. They died in loyal fulfillment of their patriotic duty. Accept, Mr. Secretary, the assurance of my perfect consideration."

A despatch from Breslau, the second largest city of Prussia, declared the daily ration of bread there was doubled to prevent further rioting.
